GnB is focused on women's needs in Kosovo, especially in the field of entrepreneurship and business. The main goals: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The issue of women and their access to property ownership and inheritance rights is a topic often not discussed in Kosovo. As such, women remain vulnerable, especially in cases of domestic violence. Leaving the house in general means leaving property and inheritance rights behind, although should not be the case. Integriteti Minoritar aims to increase awareness among women in the Gjakova municipality by the conducting of weekly legal education sessions and a media campaign. Also, relevant stakeholders will be approached. It is of importance to strengthen the capacities of the Officers of Gender Equality and to improve their cooperation with relevant ministries/officials.
Kosovo has known an increase in the development of a sex industry after the war ended in 1999. There is yet a lot unknown about the scale of human trafficking in Kosovo. This project aimed on researching the phenomenon of human trafficking and prostitution in Kosovo and to disseminate the conclusions of this research amongst relevant stakeholders, thereby stimulating effective response to trafficking for sexual purposes and prostitution. On the other hand the project had activities that educate sex workers about HIV and STI, through educational sessions in bars and handing out free condoms to sex workers
Raising the awareness about domestic violence by: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Conducting promotional and media campaigns and workshops and round tables with representatives and members of NGOs whose area of activity to a greater or lesser extend is related to the field of human rights, in the municipalities of Mitrovica, Zvecan, Zubin Potok, Leposavic, Priluzje and Gracanica. 2. Conduct researches in order to see if their campaigns worked. The long term goal of the project is effective law enforcement against domestic violence.

Combating unemployment among women in the North by offering to women business training.	IT-course and education in the skills of writing a business plan. A media campaign shall attract women to the project.
Compared to the participation of men in political processes, women are still under-represented. As a result women do still not possess the equal rights and opportunities. Especially in municipalities, wherein political parties hold great power, women's rights are either not being addressed or under-addressed, mainly due to the absence of women in the decision-making structures which is in itself a violation of the Law on Gender Equality. This project aimed to address this inequality by implementing two new Gender Equality Advocacy groups in the municipalities of Gjakova and Peja. These groups involved elected women politicians, women's NGO's, vulnerable/marginalized women such as RAE, Serbian women and men supporters. An other aspect is the expansion of 5 other, already implemented advocacy groups in Novo Brdo, Dragash, Shtime, Gjilan and Prizren. The aim was to change current politics, policies and attitudes towards marginalized women and the project follows a right-based approach.
Providing sexual education and also increase the awareness on family planning, the correct use of contraceptives and gynecological health care.
Financing six shelter houses where women confronted with domestic violence can find a safe place. These houses are located all over Kosovo (Pristina, Mitrovica, Gjakova, Peja, Prizren and Gjilan). Furthermore, through this project, these houses will unite themselves in a coalition which will hopefully result in a better cooperation between them.
Raise awareness and at the same time it will educate people, the way to the institutions and the access to justice is not gender neutral. With the show the producers also aim to get attention from institutions and companies that can help the women in the show with aftercare and with other needs.	Journalists have produced two 60 minute episodes of a TV-show in which women seek justice after they have been treated unjust. In this show women have followed on their visit to the relevant institutions and experts (lawyers, social workers, police) will comment. The show was broadcasted on public television (RTK). The ultimate aim was to produce an episode every week, however, it's hard to find donors.

Enhancing the Kosovo shelter coalition/ network as a strong civil society actor, which can in turn advocate and monitor the implementation of recent legislation on domestic violence and promote adequate provision of accessible and quality services, economic empowerment of at risk women, identification and referral of victims of trafficking, as well as regional coordination with other service providers.	This project is important because people do not know how their way to the institutions and the access to justice is not gender neutral. With the show the producers also aim to get attention from institutions and companies that can help the women in the show with aftercare and with other needs.
Strengthen institutions through procedures and systems to reduce trafficking and smuggling of human beings, protect trafficked individuals and victims of domestic violence and tackle organized crime.	1. The standards and procedures in place for the establishment of a national coordination system to assist victims of violence and trafficking; 2. The general public is more aware about the risks of trafficking/domestic violence and victims are informed about existing remedies and services; 3. A safe house is established in accordance with EU standards; 4. A functioning scheme for reintegration of victims in place; 5. A scheme for legal and psychological assistance to victims is set up; 6. Efficiency of the repression against trafficking and domestic violence is enhanced;

Empowering disadvantaged women farmers in rural areas of Kosovo, especially widows and women affected by war trauma, to influence the social, economic and political life of their region. The overall objective is to support the establishment of a formal 'Woman Farmers Organization' on the national level for promoting equal participation of woman in the economical and political development of the country and integrate them in networking activities. The main activities: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Management trainings and workshops on creating formal structures and preparing the women to register as a 'Women Farmers'Oragnisation on the national level; 2. Training the women elected to run the organizations on political and networking issues and supporting their registration in KWN; 3. Psychological counseling and individual support to the existing and new agricultural groups; 5. Grouped legal counseling and individual support to the women members of the existing and new groups; 6. Meeting with institutional authorities for promoting the situation of women victims of the war violence and representing their needs for an improved development of their income-generating activities and their involvement in political and networking activities. 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Establishment of the formal 'Woman Farmers Organization' on the national level; 2. The registration of KWN to support the Organization networking and advocacy activities; 3. Establishment of 5 new agricultural groups which will join the 'Women Farmers' organization; 4.
